TREES
I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.
A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the earth's sweet flowing breast.
A tree that looks at God all day;
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;
A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;
Upon whose bosom snow has lain,
Who intimately lives with rain.
Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

"You are charming, Alma Mater," said the Freshman to the Dean
"But I think I'd really rather go abroad.
"There's a war in Western Europe, as perhaps you may have seen,
"And I want to be a useful anthropo'd."

"You'll forgive me for intruding," said the Government to her,
"But I'd rather have my youngest stay at home.
"If you'll study and hoe cabbage and improve your character,
"There will be a shorter war than if you roam."

MORE CELEBRITIES

In early fall
We went to call
On Mary Hemenway.
In bashful smile
Robed angel style
We spent the happy day!

Boston shoe clerk to Freshman: "How do you spell that, please?"

THE PRAIRIE FLOWER

Nobody ever cultivated me,
Ha ha! I'm wild!
I just growed up as you see
Ever since I was a child.
I am a little prairie flower,
Growing wilder every hour,
For nobody ever cultivated me,
Ha ha! I'm wild!

Wellesley has cultivated me
Ha ha! I'm tame.
I've been learning every hour,
Ever since I came.
I was a little prairie flower,
Growing wilder every hour,
But Wellesley has cultivated me
Ha ha! I'm tame!

Nota Bene

Once there was a simple Freshman
Did what she was told
Read the bulletins each morning,
Signs both new and old.

Once when she the board was reading,
Round her neighbor's hat
Saw this—N. B. 19—Freshman
Most important that.

Carefully she searched the Freshman
Board, all hung with signs.
My! no simple damsel ever
Saw so many kinds.

So she sought and searched and hunted
Very patiently,
Till she found a sign that stated
"Freshmen, please N. B.

"Please report October seventh
Four to five-fifteen,
At the new erected building
Facing on the green."

Vainly for that place she hunted
All the livelong day,
Found at last an ancient ruin
Fallen to decay.

Came a Senior wise and hoary,
Learned the Freshman's woe.
"Child," she said, "that sign was posted
Years and years ago.

"Sacred is the Wellesley notice
Never to be moved,
Thus we keep efficient record
Of the notes we've loved."

"Truly," thrilled the inspired Freshman
"Better this, I state,
Than to keep a paltry record
Merely up to date."

HIGHER KNOWLEDGE

I was invited to attend
  A lecture up on campus,
In awe and fear I went to hear
  The great Professor Grampus.

He took my dearest theories,
  He laid them on the table;
He raised a shout and squeezed them out
  As dry as he was able.

He talked of Youth's Bright Promise
  And youths as he had seen them.
With manner bland he rubbed his hands
  And crushed all hope between them.

And then I turned and looked away
  For I was nigh to weeping.
What joy to see! In back of me
  The faculty were sleeping!

Our first parade, when we serenaded the Sophomores (and Shakspere)! Do you remember your "green backs" and the halo of green lanterns?

Sophomore Prom and our first chance to wear evening dress with galoshes in the afternoon.

Our thrills over Junior Play—"The Road to Yesterday"—where we first made that acquaintance with Cora Lee King.

The ice carnival,— the hurdy gurdy, the bonfires, the doughnuts and coffee—and the shooting stars we saw.

The Hygiene Wedding at the Barn, with osculation in four counts.

Revelry

On May Day, 1916, the Freshmen rose at the crack of dawn to watch their Seniors scrub Tower Court steps. The rain assisted in the general ablutions. After the Seniors wearied and departed the Freshmen found rolls and milk provided by the Juniors for their breakfast. The rain softened the rolls and increased the allotment of milk.

In the afternoon, having confounded the Sophomores by producing another gown for the May Queen, the Freshman class was exceedingly pleased with itself and danced madly on the Green in the fitful sunshine.

There was a hurdy-gurdy to make music, and another feature of the afternoon was the baseball game between the Juniors and the Sophomores, who wore their middies on backward and generally took a backward fling at the game.

ON CAMPUS

My room is filled chuck-full of stuff,
  As full as full can be.
When all my things are in it,
  There is no room for me.

I have to keep my snow-shoes,
  My skiis, my bat and ball,
And my best china cups, behind
  The pictures on the wall.

My room-mate is a selfish girl.
  At times I simply hate her!
She put her winter hats behind
  All of the radiator.

There really is a closet, but
  One dresser is in that.
It hurts me to squeeze past it,
  Because I'm sort of fat.

There was no room for laundry,
  So we ate it. And it's truth,
That if my mother visits me
  I'll take her to the roof!

With the aid of Betty King and her step-ladder, we serenaded the Freshmen on the evening of October 14th.

LEGENDA

Political Rally

The greatest of our nation's celebrities appeared at Wellesley on the night of November 4th. All who gazed upon them recognized Charles E. Hughes, William Jennings Bryan, William H. Taft, and Woodrow Wilson, from the exact likeness that Edith Matson, '17, Florence Johnson, '19, Helen Hershey, '18, and Marion Sawyer, '17, bore to those celebrities. The green was covered with Republicans, Democrats, Socialists, Prohibitionists, Progressives and others. All of the factions rubbed elbows and rooted wildly for themselves, in the intermissions between speeches. It was unfortunate that those parties with the smallest groups of adherents possessed the strongest lungs in college, for from comparison of noises, no one was able to prophesy which party the college meant to support.

LEGENDA

Data

Billy Sunday came to revive Boston on November 17th. Most of Wellesley tried to go and hear him, but some of the most eager after knowledge were shut in the cold, muddy world outside the door.

We gave our Sophomore Prom on November 25th. The Barn was decorated with yellow roses. Exhibition dances added to the merriment.

Jimmie Hayes was added to the list of Barn stars when "The Prince Chap" was produced on November 17th and 18th.

Wellesley won the Intercollegiate Debate against Holyoke at Wellesley but lost against Vassar at Vassar, on March 17th.

1918's funeral went by us the day of forensic burning. We duly honored its passing.

"My Strength is as the Strength of Ten"

Her trunk was packed, the Bailey due
But John could not be found.
"Come here and help me, roomie, you
Just clasp your arms around."
They bore the wardrobe down the hall.
They bore it down the stair.
They grunted, but they reached the road
And dropped it softly there.
"Some load!" said they and went their way,
The Bailey smiled with joy.
"This one must be real light!" said he.
He was a lazy boy.
With gesture swift he stooped to lift,
And heave it on like junk.
But when his strength gave in at length
He had not moved the trunk.

Composite Exam.

Having interviewed forty-seven of the heads of departments, we submit the following questions as characteristic of Wellesley midyears:

1. Describe the air in this room. Can you breathe better with or without a wrap?— Freshman Hygiene.

2. What words would you consider most helpful if inserted in the following blanks?

"The ——— phenomena of ——— is supposed to be attached to the ——— ——— sense relation of ———. It will be useful to remember that ——— is part of that same reaction."

From the above give a clear explanation of the cause of a young man's bitterness when frowned upon by a blue-eyed lady with pink hair sitting in a mauve and green drawing-room.—Comp. and Psychology.

3. a. Solve the following:

$$\frac{! \div \times}{?} = 0$$

$$? \times (!!)$$

b. Write home to Aunt Sara, giving a list of the most infamous authors of the nineteenth century, with qualifications.— Math. and Lit.

4. Where did they dig up the ugliest man known to posterity?— Art.

5. Give the career since 1776 of J. P. J.'s walking shoes.— History.

Bastie —"May I have a roll?"

Postie —"Certainly, lie right down and go to it."

WALKING ON EGGS

Academic Perils

There is no sport more dangerous
For each and every one of us,
Than prancing by, oblivious,
On Academic eggs.

You'd better walk precarious
And, looking sanctimonious,
Pass over those insidious
And very brittle eggs.

I'd certainly like
To
Rest for a bit.

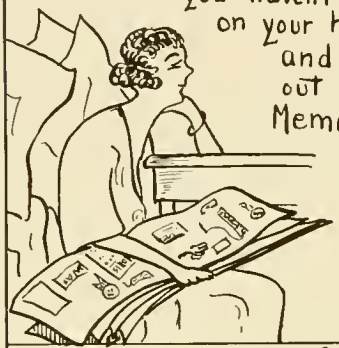
Apologies to Briggs

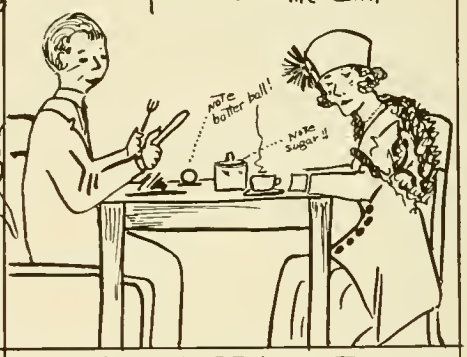
When a lonesome Saturday afternoon rolls around and you haven't a "thrill" on your horizon, and you get out your Memory Book



— and dream of those "marv whirls you used to have with "Bill" at the Copley

— and then think of "Jim", the theatre fiend — (and oh girls! those heavenly orchestra seats

— and then you dream of "Hal" and those good old sprees at the Inn



— and right in the midst of your dreaming, the maid knocks and says "Phone call" — and you race to the phone all "pepped up" and sure you can cut your Ec. Trip to "Trip" with "HIM".

Daisy Atterbury's play was produced in the Barn on March 25th, and 1919 had several stars in the cast. Margaret Withrow was the tender-hearted heroine. Margaret Horton was the investigating butler and Jane Mathews was the timid, but curious French maid.

Interested check-boy, to Wellesley Sophomore checking her Bible at South Station —"I say, are you studying to be a nun?"

Friend of Miss Gamble's, returning a puppy —"I can't keep him, really, he bit a caller of mine, a very inoffensive gentleman, indeed."

Miss Gamble's face brightens —"Oh, a man! Well, the poor dear probably never saw a man before."

The Social Problem

Some people say there's no use in societies.

I can't understand them.

Societies furnish a perfectly good grappling hook to hold down a shirtwaist and skirt.

They give a certain thrill to the non-conformists who break the twenty-four hour hair-washing rule.

What would the News do without them?

And the Heretic's Board?

If we weren't applying "the uplift" to societies we'd be reforming our friends, which would be trying on our friends.

Some future aeon may see a man-dance in the houses.

What higher object could a woman strive for? Some people say there's no use in societies.

I can't understand them.

Lady, to friend, passing Wellesley kindergarten—"There. Helen, there's one of the Wellesley Society houses; Shakspere, I think."

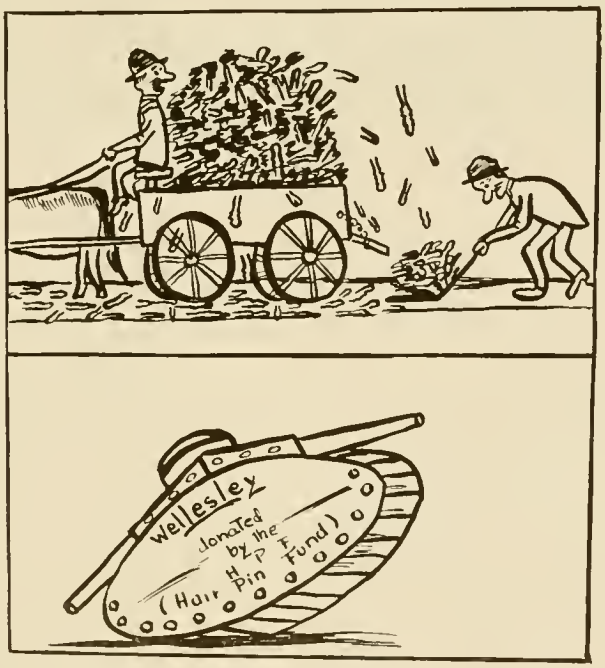
Our Honorary Member

1919 felt itself very much to be congratulated when in February, 1918, Dr. Albert Parker Fitch marched to chapel behind the yellow banner and took his seat with the Juniors. There is no minister more esteemed among all undergraduates; the Juniors were proud to have added to their number so distinguished and delightful a class-mate.

After chapel service, Dr. Fitch met the Juniors informally at T. Z. E. and proved very apt at mastering the class cheer and song, also at becoming acquainted with his fellow members of the Class of 1919.

Dr. Fitch is a graduate of Harvard, 1900, of the Union Theological Seminary, 1903, took his D.D. from Amherst in 1909, and from Williams in 1914. In 1911 he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa at Harvard. From 1909-1917 he was President of Andover Theological Seminary, and now he is a professor in the history of religion at Amherst.

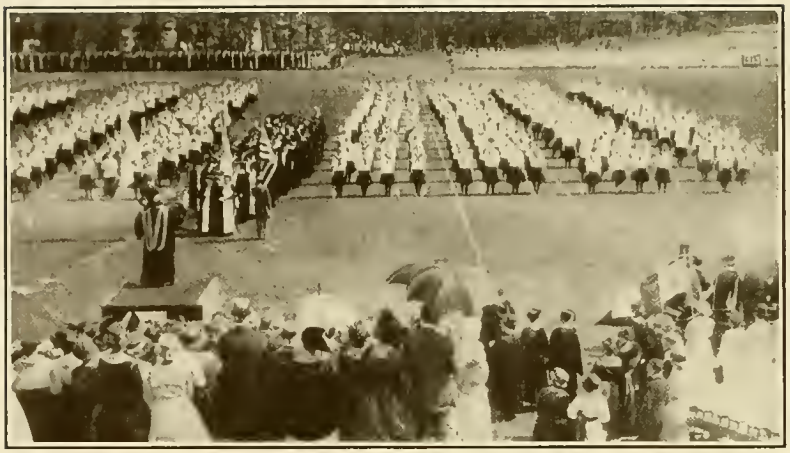
LEGENDA



1919 and 1920 had a week of surgical dressings competition. Shakspere House was never more popular. The total of the gauze compresses made was 19,600. 1919 was the winner by only 300.

May Day afternoon this year was given up to making surgical dressings. The living room of each dormitory was turned into a Red Cross work-room.

The Third Liberty Loan brought about $86,000 from the college as a whole.



MOBILIZATION

Tug of War

The class of '19 challenged the class of '20 to a tug of war across Longfellow Pond at eight bells, the 23rd of May. The crew of each tug consisted of the following ten lusty tars, who wore ground-gripper gunboats and middy blouses:

1919	1920
Jean Bailey	Emily Case
Elizabeth Bell	Emily Edwards
Alice Burbank	Mary Hering
Alice Clough	Frances Kinnear, Captain
Grace Gray	Elizabeth Manchester
Evelyn Holt	Margaret McNaughton
Margaret Post, Captain	Ruby Ponsford
Elizabeth Shipman	Ethel Schaeffer
Marjorie Scudder	Sibyl Wachter
Hilde Wulp

Commanders Halsted and White officiated; the battle was on. At the first tug, the opposing forces almost severed the rope. The turf under foot became as nothing; most of the shrubbery near by took to the water. Great pressure became evident in the purple faces of the tars and in the labored breathing of the bystanders, who spent their last ounce of energy in shrieks. Then, slowly, bringing the hillside along, 1919 came down to cool their feet in the pond. Judges Lange and Haddock declared a victory for 1920. See opposite page for the source of 1920's tree-mendous strength.

The College War Farm

PRO-GERMANS ON THE WAR FARM

Under the generalship of Miss Ferguson of the Botany Department, a War Farm was started across from "Faculty Slums" in the spring of 1918, in order to relieve Wellesley's pressure on the food market. Undergraduates consume amazing quantities of potatoes, beans, corn, tomatoes and other vegetables beyond number. The idea was that every girl who could, should give up two hours a week to farming, and the farm officials would determine on what distinct work to place the available labor every day. In the spring, lime was spread over the entire farm. When the rush of planting came the College Athletic Association voted to disband sports and each girl who was out for athletic exercise was put on farm work. The last of the semester undergraduates were allowed to sign up for summer farming, and sixteen out of the quantities of names were selected for each month.

Senior Elections

1919, after one of the usual weeks of stress, came to step-singing with its Senior president and vice-president. Half of the class went to the steps and sang, to delude the other classes, but the other half stayed up the road with great mystery. Then a bicycle came precariously down to the steps, dressed in green and ridden by Alice Clough. Next came the Ford, with Jo January (not driving) inside. No one was injured. After the crowd had been pushed from the road, E. White was driven gorgeously to the steps in Truth Binn's runabout. There was more cheering. Finally, with much dignity, a closed coupé rolled up to chapel, and Edna Love assisted the new president, Mary Crane, and the new vice-president, Louise Hunter, to descend into the welcoming arms below. The second half of the class had marched down with them, singing 1919's new marching song:

"Wellesley we're marching on to cheer you,
Cheer you with a rousing song.
We're an army strong and true,
Volunteers to serve for you,
As with banners bright we swing along.
Nineteen, nineteen, nineteen,
May your path lie under skies serene, serene,
The finest class you've e'er seen pass
Is marching on to bring new glory to Wellesley."

This had been written by Margaret Horton and Eleanor Blodgett. 1919 was all agog and ready for their caps and gowns.

College Notes

Influenza put a stop to the joyful kissing that marks the opening days of college.

Wellesley subscribed $140,000 to the Fighting Fourth, and $21,545 in answer to the War Work call of $20,000.

A farm garnering contest was won by the odd classes against the even classes. Jack Frost was left away down the field.

On the declaration of the armistice our college marched to Wellesley Hills and then marched home again, singing.

1920 won Field Day. It's nice to know the Juniors are still with us. We hear from them so seldom.

Thanksgiving vacation was twenty-three and one-half hours leave.

One serious error became seriouser and seriouser this year. The formerly harmless trophy now takes away our privileges.

Vachel Lindsay came back and brought Daniel. For a week after his visit the dormitories were filled with growls and howls of "Daniel, Daniel, we want Daniel!"

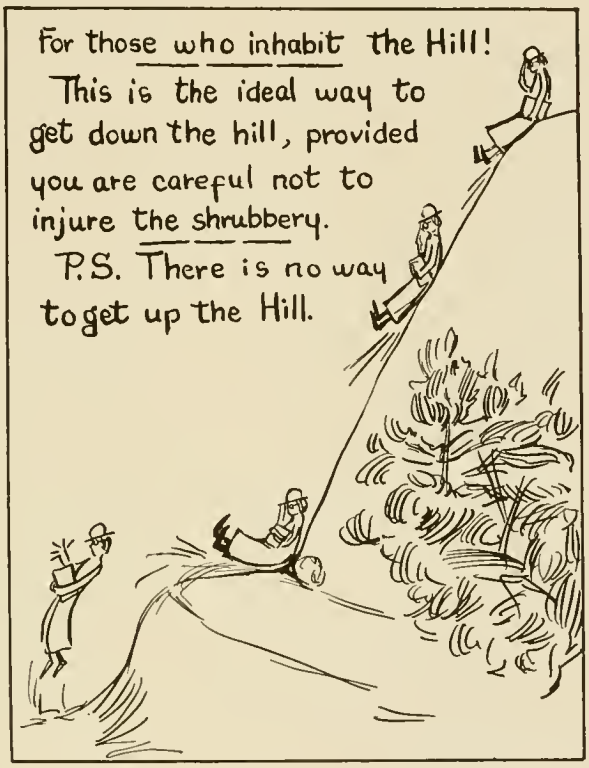
The greatest honor of the year came to us with the visit of Madame Breshkovsky, the little grandmother of the Russian revolution. She spoke for an hour to a crowded chapel on February 19th, and also at morning chapel on the 20th, when she smiled and nodded to the lines of cap-and-gowned Seniors drawn up on the steps to do her honor.

The Legenda Board wishes to express its gratitude to the many people not on the staff who contributed to this publication. Louise Hunter reproduced the cover of our Tree Day program so that it might be used as a cut. Amelia Henderson filled the "Book-rack," while the "Laundry Song" was the work of Tower Court's tower floor. There was also aid rendered in other ways, such as correcting lists, for which we are very thankful.

In History 15

"Yes, the Hungarians are sending a woman to the peace conference. The Hungarians stand for open discussion of all treaties."

LEGENDA



Laundry Song

O how we love to work down in the laundry!
O how we'd like to be there all day!
But the grandest fun for us
Is to drive the laundry bus!
It's a wonderful trap.
Tsch tsch! Giddiap!
We lose all the clothes on the way.
O boy! The sights that you see in the laundry!
O boy! The secrets that are revealed!
There are holes and rips and tears, O my!
Our laundry work is never dry!
And girls! The end of the week brings pay!

The Song of Waban

Upon this day of all the year, the Spirits of the Forest Trees come forth to dance, and to welcome among them their youngest sister. From near and far come mortals also, desiring to do honour to the trees. They send their Messenger to the Spirits of the Forest, praying them to look kindly upon this, the homage of mortals, the pageant song of Waban:

At the call of Ishkewahwah, Spirit of Forest Law, the tribes of men gather to dance the dance of Peace, while their chieftains smoke the Calumet, the peace-pipe. Then arises Ishkewahwah, glad in his heart that he has made a bond with the children of men, and in a great voice proclaims to them the coming of the precious Seed Maidens.

From the four corners of the earth come these four Maidens, surrounded by protecting Clouds, and followed by a great train of Birds and Butterflies and Flowers. For long men worshipped the sacred Maidens, who had been given them to protect and cherish and love, in token of the brotherhood of man and Forest Law. But after a while they tired of them, and forgot that they were precious symbols of the fertility of the lands; and they turned instead to the Birds and Butterflies and Flowers, the followers of the Maidens. Then from among the tribes sprang the peacock Indulgence, and Selfishness like a great spider, and the fanged Jealousy. The Manitoes, creatures of evil thought, poured down upon them and left them stricken. All Nature mocked them. The grey Wind of the skies and wearying Rain beat upon them, and the great birds Thunder and Lightning. Then gaunt Famine and Fever walked abroad, and Night herself brooded upon destruction.

Out of the greatness of their sorrow, the people prayed to the Great Spirit. There came calm Understanding, and taught them that Law alone is not enough for men. They must have among them the Spirit of Love also. Then with Understanding they prayed to the Great Spirit, who heard them, and sent to them out of Waban, Land of Light and Morning, Paiyatuma, Spirit of Love, bringing Dew and Mist, and the full glory of the Dawn. Summer and the Elves of Summerland were reawakened from the east, and led with them the Sunshine and Rainbow People. In the mystery-dance of the sacred plumes, Love prayed for the return of the Seed Maidens. To the four corners of the earth he turned, and saw at last the Maidens, bearing in their hands great trays heaped with golden seed. In the glory of Summer, nourished by Sunshine and Rainbow, the seed grew, and revealed to men the promise of harvest-time. Thus was the pageant of mortals ended, the song of Waban sung to the Spirits of the Trees.

Now out from their places of watching the Spirits of the Trees come, to dance their yearly dance again. In the last dance of all they bear to their little sister their symbol, the spade, and give it to her in token that she is in truth one of them. They leave her, then, to dance alone, while they return to their forest haunts. And the Youngest Spirit, all alone, summons her followers, that they may go with her to her chosen tree.

Say: buy me a package & put in the ... I'll will yuh?

1815 — and the battle of Waterloo

Wordsworth wrote and finished ~~just before~~ ~~Napoleon bee~~ ← in 2nd year of Napoleon's regime. He had been in France during unrest. Unrest in Ireland and India — also, industrial unrest.

Did you get that?

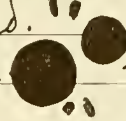
Yes — but don't stop me now I'll see you after class. Thanks!

The mill-towns factories, etc. taking their toll in Wordsworth's beloved northern England.

Talk about Ximinez as a slayer of Romance. This lecture R.S. all swallow

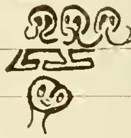
A period of pessimism

Just take a look! And the old thing cost me all of a dollar.



("And I ask you, how could any red-blooded man draw into a shell-hole and write a calm, passive, sleepy poem like the Prelude? Why wasn't he in the army?)

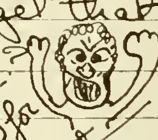
H'm! You didn't use much sense



Have you put hooks & eyes on your choker yet? I busted about a dozen needles on mine.

Me in chapel →

Whew!!! did you get that meat-axe look from fond instructor



Has Ted phoned yet?

Ole you betcha same old silly but faithful as ever. Be thankful for anything these war times. I lost "one & only" when he caught me going into a second balcony entrance.

I'm just starved. Terrible hash for lunch!

Good-night be glad for it all the whole.

YOUR bodkin is threaded and always at hand when wanted, if you have

MAKING MANLY BOYS

and keeping them manly, vigorous and morally courageous — that is the life work of the editors of THE AMERICAN BOY, the magazine for boys that is a powerful influence for positive good.

THE AMERICAN BOY

"The Biggest, Brightest, Best Magazine for Boys in all the World."

It is welcomed every month by 500,000 of America's brightest boys because in its stories, articles and pictures, it gives them the wholesome and interesting entertainment that they are entitled to, the information they should have, and the inspiration they need. Parents, educators, Y. M. C. A. secretaries and public libraries heartily endorse it. Don't you know a boy who would enjoy such a magazine — a boy who needs it? Send us a subscription for him.

The Joys of an Advertising Manager

1919 Legenda
WELLESLEY COLLEGE
DOROTHY C. DOREMUS, BUS. MGR.

Wellesley, Mass., Nov. 24, 1918.

——— ——— ——— Co.

DEAR SIR: All of ———'s friends have been admiring her beautiful plush hangings and couch cover. Upon enquiring as to where she obtained said articles we were told that they came from your firm. Therefore I am writing you to invite you to take an ad in the LEGENDA, the Wellesley College Year Book. We make the advertising section a very important one and to stimulate the interest of the readers we sprinkle cartoons and humorous incidents which have occurred during the year throughout that portion of the book. The circulation is very wide as the subscribers, numbering 1100, come from every State in the Union. This ad would be a permanent investment, as the LEGENDA is an attractively bound book and is treasured through life by the proud owners. Don't neglect this wonderful opportunity to come before the eyes of such a large reading public!

The 1919 Legenda Board authorizes me to say that they would be glad to save space for you and will do so on receipt of the enclosed. Hoping to hear from you at an early date I am,

Yours very truly,

——— Advertising Manager.

December 11, 1918.

Miss Clarissa B. Cooper, Advertising Manager, 1919 LEGENDA,
Stone Hall, Wellesley, Mass.

DEAR MADAM: Yours of the 24th ult., re. advertising received and noted. After taking up this matter with our advertising manager we reply thereto as follows:

NOVEMBER 24th — Six days shalt thou labor, &c.

PLUSH HANGINGS — We appreciate the favorable comment.

COUCH COVER — Please take another look at this, don't believe it is plush.

LEGENDA — 1100 subscribers, 2200 eyes, all searching for the H. & H. Ad, prospects seem good.

RATES — $75.00 per page. Dirt cheap.

INVESTMENT — Permanent, no doubt about that.

RETURNS — Oh! Clarissa, why be silent, don't you at least hope our investment will not be an entire loss, we hope you hope so.

OPPORTUNITY — We take your word for it and herewith enclose subscription for one page.

CONDITIONS — That you crowd (not sprinkle) cartoons on our page.

LEGENDA BOARD — We note their promise to reserve space for the writer; good sized room with bath will be satisfactory.

COPY — Enclosed herewith.

Yours truly,

——— ——— & Co.

BRAIN INSPECTION

My father said
"My child, your head
Is fashioned much like mine.
A star you'll be
At Wellesley
For learning's in my line."
So when they came
To test my brain
I said they needn't bother.
Now why did they
Go off a way
And only say, "Poor father!"

JUNIOR —"Yes, you go to the Dean to get your marks."

FRESHMAN —"Oh, can't anyone else tell what they are?"

JUNIOR —"No, only the Dean."

FRESHMAN —"Well, really! I always thought your instructors would know."

Photographs of Distinction

A fine portrait should be artistic, as well as a good likeness — it should be a work of art and at the same time look like you.

A Bachrach photograph is distinctive because it accomplishes this.

Senior Farewell Address

I don't want a B.A.
I don't want a B.A.
For I'm having a wonderful time!
Every winter, spring and fall
I laugh and play, while thoughts of work don't worry me at all.
I don't want a B.A.
I don't want a B.A.
I don't really want to graduate at all.
The Grey Book says I've got my education,
But oh! oh! oh! I don't care for this sensation.
I don't want a B.A.
I don't want a B.A.
For I'm having a wonderful time!

Of Interest to Women

While we do not sell women's clothing, it is our experience that there is, on the part of many women, especially those interested in sport, a growing tendency to purchase from us for their own use Motor Coats, Sweaters, Wool Caps, Waistcoats, Gloves, Mufflers, Boots, Leggings, Puttees, etc., liking these articles all the more apparently because as distinct from being "mannish" they are the very things that are worn by men.

A "Good Anytime" Dessert

Such a dish of plain Jell-O as Bobbie and Jack welcome with clapping of hands and cries of "Oh, Good-e-e-e!" is good enough for anybody.

But just now, when "substitutes" are still having their day, Jell-O, whipped like cream, is one of the most useful and enjoyable of all foods.

What particularly interests college girls is the fact that whipped Jell-O—say in the form of a pineapple Bavarian cream—is a treat, and one that any girl can provide.

The new Jell-O Book tells how to make all the whipped Jell-O dishes and it will be sent to any address.

Jell-O is put up in six pure fruit flavors: Strawberry, Raspberry, Lemon, Orange, Cherry, Chocolate, and is sold by all grocers, 2 packages for 25 cents.
